

Pinjarra on film

WESTERN Australian Indigenous short film Karla will feature in the 2009 Perth International Arts Festival at the traditional Noongar Welcome to Country.

ScreenWest chief Executive Ian Booth said the film was a fitting addition to the Welcome to Country event.

"Karla is a dreamtime story of how fire came to the Noongar people of the Pinjarra region, told through painting, dance and visual storytelling,"

Mr Booth said.

"The screening of Karla at the Welcome to Country will be a wonderful opportunity for families to enjoy the work of our talented local filmmakers and celebrate the unique storytelling of the Noongar people." First-time director Karrie-Anne Kearing said through Karla and the arts, she ensured that the history of her people was recognised alongside the history of modern Australia.

"I am very proud to have my work selected to be screened at the festival," Ms Kearing said.

Ms Kearing cut her teeth as the writer of the Indigenous short film, Weewar. She is an active member of the Pinjarra Katijin Corporation, working to develop art and cultural programs for her community.

The Perth Festival Welcome to Country is part of the Lotterywest Festival Celebration, a free family event at the Supreme Court Gardens.

Karla screens at 8.30pm tomorrow night.
